Guajira Expedition

Chasing the Wind and the Desert

www.tutravel.co

Are You Ready to Discover the Spirit of the Wayuu?

Embark on a deep journey through the heart of Wayuu culture and the majestic landscapes of the Guajira Peninsula.
We'll explore over 70% of the region, uncovering the most breathtaking corners of the desert guided by the voices and wisdom of the Indigenous communities who have inhabited this ancestral land for generations.

Choose La Guajira!

Travel across La Guajira from south to north on a unique journey through the entire peninsula.
From Middle to Upper Guajira, we'll reach Nazareth, a sacred land for the Wayuu people, where—according to their cosmogony—the first man was born.

We'll explore the desert and Macuira National Natural Park, an unexpected oasis of sand dunes, mountains, and cloud forests—home to species found nowhere else on Earth.

An experience of contrasts, culture, and ancestral wisdom that transforms.
Let yourself be guided by the Wayuu communities and discover one of the most stunning deserts in the world.

Day 1:

Riohacha

Your adventure begins with a warm welcome in Riohacha, where our team will greet you and introduce you to the journey ahead. We'll take a relaxed walk along the malecón (seaside boardwalk), giving you your first glimpse of the Guajira Sea and time to connect with your fellow travelers.

As the sun sets, we'll share a welcome dinner and a technical briefing about the route, safety tips, and the days to come. You'll also receive your traveler's kit, including special gifts from our partner brands.

The night will be spent in a luxury hostel with a pool, where you'll rest in shared accommodations and prepare for the adventure that lies ahead.

Accommodation:

Shared accommodation in a luxury hostel with a pool

Meal:

Welcome dinner

Included Activities:

- Relaxed walk along the malecón
- First contact with the Guajira Sea

Day 2:

Riohacha - Montes de Oca

Cabo De La Vela

We'll start the day early with a 4x4 departure from Riohacha at 7:30 a.m., heading toward the natural reserve Montes de Oca. There, we'll enjoy an eco-hike through native forest, observing local wildlife and endemic plants, and cooling off with a refreshing swim in crystal-clear natural pools.

After a delicious local lunch in the reserve, the expedition continues as we cross the desert in our 4x4s, heading toward El Cabo de la Vela, one of the most iconic places in the Wayuu territory.

In the afternoon, we'll witness a magical sunset by the Wayuu Sea, followed by a traditional dinner and a bonfire gathering to share stories and strengthen group bonds under the stars.

We'll spend the night in traditional Wayuu chinchorros (hammocks) at a local ranchería. Beds are available for an additional cost

Accommodation:

- Visit to the dunes and médanos and the Piedra del Destino
- Exploration of the bird sanctuary
- Visit around Nazareth and sunset viewpoint

We begin the day with breakfast in Siapana at 6:00 a.m., then set off for the majestic Macuira National Natural Park. There, we'll embark on a 6-hour trek through its unique landscapes of dunes, mountain ranges, and humid forests, visiting sacred sites like the Piedra del Destino.

Along the way, we'll enjoy a local snack made with regional products and explore a bird sanctuary known for endemic and migratory species.

At 1:00 p.m., we'll have a traditional lunch in the town of Nazareth, followed by a relaxing walk around the village and a visit to a sunset viewpoint.

The day ends with a local dinner at a Wayuu ranchería, and rest in comfortable chinchorros. Beds available upon request.

Day 6:

Nazareth - Mayapo

After breakfast in Nazareth, we begin our return journey with a scenic 4x4 drive across the desert, stopping at some of its most iconic spots.

We'll have lunch in Uribia, known as the Indigenous capital of Colombia, and continue with a visit to the Manaure salt flats, where vast white fields stretch across the landscape.

In the afternoon, we'll unwind at the beaches of Mayapo, a peaceful place to rest and reflect. The day ends with a seaside dinner and a night in beachfront cabins, with shared rooms and comfortable beds.
